Subject: The Explorer Soul vs. a Hybrid Soul

Dear Rifa:

I can see how someone might confuse the Explorer Soul with being a Hybrid Soul but they are quite different. While the Explorer soul travels to many environments to inspect on both physical and mental worlds and even has inter-dimensional experience, they are essentially a non-incarnating being looking for soul training sites. The Senior Explorers are generally finished with their incarnations and have become highly specialized.

The hybrid soul we find on earth is typically not finished with their incarnations yet but has past experience incarnating on other worlds. Being on earth is another step in their development. An Explorer Soul may have gone through all their incarnations on earth and has now "graduated." Having said that, it is not uncommon to find an explorer soul who has been a hybrid before their incarnations were over.

On rare occasions when you have an Explorer Soul in your office chair it is because they are not quite finished with their incarnations on earth. They are in training to be a specialized Senior Explorer. This means when they travel between lives they are usually accompanied by their instructor.
